Here are all results I have. I highlighted the 2 datasets that first caught my eye when I added the data (and full citations and extra risk estimates) next to the results I received.

A longer term question is how to document this type of work. This doesn't seem adequate compared with BMDS, etc. As mentioned, I know the datasets and could reconstruct the citations and datasets. But if I had been hit by truck after sending the datasets to Leonid and Christine, what I received back from them would have been harder to connect to the assessment.
